

Using MasterCard at Online Casinos: a 2019 Digital Gambling Guide

Online gambling has become a popular pastime. As laws surrounding the activity become clearer, players have flocked to various websites to enjoy their selection of games. As US based players begin to understand the limitations of federal law regarding gaming, these digital casinos continue to grow. Essentially, US players are free to legally gamble in any casino that is not based in the United States.

So, now players know where they can play within the limitations of Federal law, but players also have to consider which locations work with their choice of payment.

Today, we will take a look at MasterCard and its benefits and uses to online gamblers.

Mastercard: The Options

Mastercard users have a world of choices at their hands. Whether you get a MasterCard through your bank or through MasterCard itself, there are four main types of cards available.

MasterCard Debit Card

Mastercard's debit card option is available through your banking institution. These cards have all of the major protections and benefits of a credit card with the addendum that you cannot request or borrow credit on the card. Instead, you can use the funds that are in the bank. Account linked to the card. Any draft protection or denial of funds will be done through the bank, not through MasterCard.

MasterCard Credit Card

The credit card option is perhaps the most popular form of MasterCard. MasterCard is a very common credit card choice and is widely accepted around the world. There are different tiers of MasterCard based on your credit history and approval. All of the card options have zero liability protection, extended warrant, and ID theft protection which is vital for your safety when transferring money to an online casino.

MasterCard Prepaid Card

MasterCard's prepaid cards are a standard, loadable fund card. You transfer the amount of money you want on the card and it is available to spend. It is a blend of a debit and gift card. Prepaid cards are accepted at most casinos, but there is a higher chance withdrawals won't be allowed if you find or use any service that requires a recurring transfer. These cards are a great safe option for online purchases as they do not link back to your personal bank accounts or information.

MasterCard Gift Card

Like prepaid cards, gift cards are loaded with a set amount of funds that can be retrieved through most online casinos. If you cannot find a prepaid card, buying yourself a gift card will provide a very similar experience. They, like prepaid cards, are very safe for online transfers and purchases.

MasterCard: How to Apply

Many banks offer MasterCard as a debit card option, and some even offer MasterCard credit cards through their institution. The applications for these bank-issued cards will vary from location to location. You can also apply for MasterCard credit through MasterCard's website.

When applying through MasterCard you need to be aware of your credit score. If you have incredibly low credit, you are likely only going to be approved for a prepaid card, or a card with a refundable deposit. If you have a high credit score you could qualify for higher leveled cards with better amenities and rewards.

If you want to apply through your bank, check out their website or get an application at any tangible location. If you want to apply through MasterCard, use their website to help decided which card is best for you and apply online within minutes.

Before you Apply

Before you pick which card to apply for, know that while most, if not all, MasterCard credit cards will allow you to pay to play at an online casino, some card options will not let you withdraw your winnings back to the card. This is something you will want to check for in your fine print and regulations before use!

How to Make Deposits with MasterCard

When you choose the online casino that piques your interest, take a look at your profile and the payment method options. Here, you will need to link your MasterCard in the banking information.

You will need to input the card information, expiration date, and CVV code, which is the three-digit security code on the back of the card.

Once you have provided this information these are the ways the online casino might proceed:

1. Authorization is complete and your payments are ready to be made and managed by the bank.
2. Authorization is not complete. You will be taken to a page where you can complete further authorization of your account.
3. You might have to authorize your account with a code sent to your phone via SMS.
4. You might need to provide verbal authorization with a representative who will call your phone.

These additional authorizations are due to the fraud prevention offered by MasterCard, so while they may be frustrating, they are definitely a good thing!

Using credit cards for your online casino gaming is convenient for the casinos, which is why the majority of them allow credit cards to be used.

Once you have set up your card information you can make a deposit through the casino box office, your profile page, or the casino home page. This varies from casino to casino, but since their business relies on you making a deposit – most casinos make depositing money very intuitive and easy.
